

Overcoming Doubt, your greatest homeschooling enemy

Peggy Ployhar – SPED Homeschool Founder & CEO

#1 - "Doubt is the beginning of a dispute with God about our circumstances."

Where is doubt most prevalent in your life and homeschooling endeavors? How do these doubts line up with areas you are in disagreement with how God is working them out?

#2- "Homeschooling doubt is often caused by internalizing external expectations."

How do the expectations of others, societal norms, and achievement standards cause you to doubt your ability to homeschool?

#3 - "When anxiety sets in, instead of giving in, press into God, pray and be ready."

How can you turn your greatest anxieties into prayer? Then how can you prepare your heart to receive God's answer and boldly follow His plan instead of your own?

#4 - "How you view your circumstances won't change things immediately, but it will affect where your choices will take you in the end."

What do you rely on as your guide for deciding? Your feelings, the advice of others, your best educated guess, or prompts from the Holy Spirit?

#5- "Life begins at the end of your comfort zone.."

"Do you too have to put away the lie that 'if you do everything 'right,' your life will work out perfectly?' How do 'right and wrong' need to be replaced with 'obey and disobey' in your day-to-day life?"
